On 9 May 1952, ROK prisoners of war were being detained by North Korean authorities in a one-story building, 30 meters long, 10 meters wide, and 4 meters high, 2 kilometers south of Pon'gung (127-34, 39-52) (CV-7713). A barbed wire fence 6 feet high surrounded the building. North Korean soldiers guarded the compound day and night from two towers, which were approximately 100 meters apart.
